

SLATER SCOOP

Slater Community Center & Library Wants Your Feedback!

As we continue the design process, we want the community to have the opportunity to provide as much guidance as possible. Will you help us by filling out our short survey no later than Tues., Sept. 3? Two options:

- Scan the QR code below to access & complete the survey.
- Use the paper copy we've included in this edition of the Slater Scoop and return it to city hall.

Your feedback will provide us with information that will help us make this facility meet the needs and wishes of Slater citizens and help us tailor this project to garner the support we need to make this building a cornerstone of our Main Street and our community. We'd like to know how you use the library or would like to, and how you use our community spaces (Log Cabin and Senior Center) or would like to.

With funds from an Iowa Rural Enrichment Grant, our architect, FEH Design is currently working on revised plans for the project incorporating City Hall into our design plan. We have also adjusted the size of the building to align with community feedback, making the overall project more cost-effective. Stay tuned for more details and revised floor plans in September.

Fundraising events such as the upcoming Golf Tournament and Gather Farm-To-Table Meal keep adding to the $2+ million raised, donated, and pledged to the project by our community and our city.

In November, we will be asking Slater citizens to vote on a $2.5 million bond. Passing a bond for a portion of the costs of the building will move us to the next step in funding: grant writing. Continued fundraising, a passed bond, and grants will allow us to be shovel-ready as soon as possible. Additional information on the bond will also be communicated in September.

Scan QR Code to take the survey no later than Tues., Sept. 3.

Book Club

The book club selection for September is The Last Thing He Told Me by Laura Dave. Discussion will be on Thursday, September 19 at 10 a.m.

Overview: Before Owen Michaels disappears, he smuggles a note to his beloved wife of one year: Protect her. Despite her confusion and fear, Hannah Hall knows exactly to whom the note refers—Owen's sixteen-year-old daughter, Bailey. Bailey, who lost her mother tragically as a child. Bailey, who wants absolutely nothing to do with her new stepmother.

As Hannah's increasingly desperate calls to Owen go unanswered, as the FBI arrests Owen's boss, as a US marshal and federal agents arrive at her Sausalito home unannounced, Hannah quickly realizes her husband isn't who he said he was. And that Bailey just may hold the key to figuring out Owen's true identity—and why he really disappeared.

We will be going on our annual book club trip on Tuesday, October 8 to Ames. We will be visiting some area attractions and enjoy a lunch together. If you are interested in joining us, stop by the library and let us know. The reading selection is The Girls from Ames: A Story of Women and a Forty-Year Friendship by Jeffrey Zaslow.

Overview: Eleven childhood friends who formed a special bond growing up in Ames, Iowa. As young women, they moved to eight different states, yet managed to maintain an enduring friendship that would carry them through college and careers, marriage and motherhood, dating and divorce, a child's illness and the mysterious death of one member of their group. Capturing their remarkable story, The Girls from Ames is a testament to the deep bonds of women as they experience life's joys and challenges — and the power of friendship to triumph over heartbreak and unexpected tragedy.

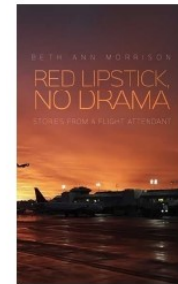

2024-25 Book Club Selections will be revealed on October 8. Be sure to check our website or stop in and see what books we will be reading next year. Make plans to join us, it's easy to do! The library supplies all books so you just need to come in and check-out the current month's selection and attend our discussions that are held at 10:00 a.m. on the third Thursday of each month.

Barb was a flight attendant for a major airline for 24 years, and she has so many stories, she decided to write a book! Red Lipstick, No Drama by Beth Ann Morrison (Barb's pen name) is a humorous look into the world of flight attendants, and the drama and unpredictability of flying. Her shared experiences and stories will have you both laughing and shaking your head in disbelief. Her book will be on sale for $14.

In November, Meet-n-Eat will be held Friday, November 1.

SAHA INSTALLS TRAIL SIGNS PROMOTING SLATER'S HISTORY

Take a walk or ride and check them out!

The Heart of Iowa Trail Sign

SAHA knew it wanted to put informative signs on our two trails running through Slater, the Heart of Iowa Trail and the High Trestle Trail. Thousands pass through Slater on these trails each year.

Board member Robert Vespestad worked with the City, sourced the appropriate signs, put together the installation of the signs, and a bench and bike rack at the location on the High Trestle Trail, the site of the old Hobo Jungle. Another sign went up near the Arboretum on the Heart of Iowa Trail. We are grateful to the families of Jackie and Gus O'Donnell and Max Raines, which donated to the project in memoriam.

The sign on the old Chicago Northwestern Railroad bed is located about 3/4 of a mile south of Slater on the High Trestle Trail. The Hobo Jungle, as the locals called it, consisted of a group of shrubs and trees and an area where a fire could be built for cooking and for warmth. In recent years Slater's children have played at the spot, perhaps building fires and telling hobo stories. Today there's a comfortable bench and a bike rack with the sign commemorating the Hobo Jungle site.

Installing the Hobo Jungle site

The Hobo Jungle site

The second sign which is near the big County sign on the Heart of Iowa Trail, the Milwaukee Road rail bed, is just east of the Arboretum and tells the story of Slater, a town that exists because of the trains, the story of The Town that Moved and of the Great Train Wreck of 1913. It describes Slater's existence and growth because of the railroads.
